Territorial Land Acknowledgement

PRECI acknowledges that our work spans many traditional, ancestral, and unceded Indigenous territories in BC and beyond.

Therefore, we respectfully honour all the First Nations, Inuit and Métis people, as well as their ancestors, who have lived and cared for these lands.

Today, we specifically thank and acknowledge PRECI's presence in the traditional territory of the Quw'utsun peoples.

It is with gratitude that we support students for work throughout the province now known as British Columbia.

This acknowledgement comes with a responsibility to work, at both the individual and collective level towards Truth and then Reconciliation.
